

List of Contributors

UCHIDA, Katsuichi

Katsuichi Uchida is Vice President and Professor of School of International Liberal Studies, Waseda University. He completed Doctoral Course, Graduate School of Law, Waseda University. He became Vice President at Waseda University in November 2006 after serving as Professor, School of Law at Waseda University, Associate Dean, School of Law at Waseda University, Dean, Center for International Education at Waseda University, and Dean, School of International Liberal Studies at Waseda University

KURODA, Kazuo

Kazuo Kuroda is Professor, Graduate School of Asia-Pacific Studies, Waseda University. He was born in Japan in 1966. He graduated from Waseda University (B.A.), Stanford University (M.A.) and Cornell University (Ph.D.). He was Researcher of the Overseas Development Council in Washington, D.C., Assistant Professor and Associate Professor at Center for the Study of International Cooperation in Education of Hiroshima University, and Visiting Fellow at UNESCO's International Institute of Educational Planning. He is currently Professor at Waseda University and Visiting Professor of Institute of Developing Economies Advance School. Actively He is involved in Japanese educational cooperation as members of committees and taskforces of MOFA, MEXT, JICA and JBIC. His specialties are research methodology in educational development study, policy evaluation. He is Editorial Board members of several academic journals including International Journal of Educational Development, Peabody Journal of Education, Journal of International Development Studies and Journal of International Cooperation in Education. Author and editor of books and articles including Education and International Development: Theory and Practice, and Education and Development.

NINOMIYA, Akira

NINOMIYA, Akira is the Vice President (Research) and Professor of Faculty of Education, Hiroshima University. His specialties are Comparative and International Education. He became the Vice President at Hiroshima University in May 2007 after serving as Ministry of Education, Associate Professor of Faculty of Education at Hiroshima University, Professor of Faculty of Education at Hiroshima University. He also served the Head of Centre for International Students, Assistant for President, and Vice President (International Affairs) at Hiroshima University. He is appointed as a panel member of the Central Education Council. His publications include Shiminsei Keiseiron, (Hoso Daigaku Kyoiku Shinkokai, 2007), Sekai no Gakkou (writing and editing, Gakuji Shuppan, 2006), 21 Seiki no Shakai to Gakkou (writing and editing, 2000), and so on.

DE PRADO YEPES, César

Prof. de Prado Yepes currently teaches at the University of Salamanca's East Asian Studies Programme in Spain (www.usal.es/asia). He is also an advisor to the Asia-Europe Meeting (ASEM), and a consultant to the United Nations University. Previously he spent two years at the University of Tokyo's Institute of Oriental Culture to write the book Global Multi-level Governance: European and East Asian Leadership (United Nations University Press, www.unu.edu/unupress/2007/multilevelGovernance.html). He has also published Oriente en Oriente: Guidebook on Studying, Working and Living in Asia-Pacific (Fundacion Universidad-Empresa, 1997), and more than twenty single-authored policy and academic articles and book chapters, on multi-level foreign policies and on the governance of information, education and knowledge societies. He earned a Ph.D. in Global Political Economy from the European University Institute in Florence (www.eui.eu), has done research in Lund (Sweden) and Bruges (Belgium), and has worked in Madrid (KPMG auditors), Brussels (European Commission), and Tokyo (Commercial Office of the Spanish Embassy).

SIRAT, Morshidi

MORSHIDI SIRAT is Professor and Director of National Higher Education Research Institute (IPPTN), Universiti Sains Malaysia, Penang, Malaysia, since 2002. He earned an MSc (Econ) degree from the University of Wales and a PhD in Geography from University of Southampton, England. Morshidi has been working on several research and consultancy projects which examine higher education policies in Malaysia and the ASEAN region. Lately, Morshidi has embarked on a project which explores the interface between urban geography and higher education policy in the context of a globalising urban city region of Kuala Lumpur. This project explores the concept of 'ideopolis' in relation to the construction of knowledge spaces in Malaysia. Morshidi is also involved in APRU/PECC project on Asia Pacific Education Market and Opportunities for Regional Cooperation. As Director of IPPTN, Morshidi is also active in consultancy and contract research work for external agencies and the Ministry of Higher Education Malaysia. Morshidi sits in many working committees at the federal ministerial level, formulating and evaluating higher education policies, reviewing university governance structure, formulating action plan to deal with changing academic profession and the academia, and constructing models for universities in Malaysia. Morshidi was a visiting professor at the College of International Studies, Chubu University, Kasugai, Nagoya in 2000 and a visitor at the Research Institute for Higher Education (RIHE), Hiroshima University, in 2006. Morshidi will take up a visiting scholar position at RIHE for three months commencing May 2008. Major publications since 2006 include Globalisation and Internationalisation of Higher Education in Malaysia (Universiti Sains Malaysia Press, 2008, co-editor), Malaysia: New and Diversified Roles and Responsibilities for Academics (In: W. Locke and U. Teichler, eds., WERKSTATTBERICHTE – 66, INCHER-Kassel, 2007, co-author); Restructuring of University Governance: The Case of Malaysia (Cambridge Scholars Publishing, Newcastle, 2007, co-author); Envisioning and Imaging of the Malaysian Universities towards Achievement of 'Regional Hub' Status: Are Academics being Marginalized and Deprofessionalized in the Process? (RIHE COE Publication Series, 23, February 2007); Malaysia (In: UNESCO/APEID and SEAMEO-RIHED, Higher Education in South-East Asia, UNESCO-APEID, Bangkok, 2006); Transnational Higher Education in Malaysia: Balancing Costs and Benefits through regulations (RIHE International Publication Series 10, March, Hiroshima University, Japan).

WELCH, Anthony

Anthony Welch is Professor of Education, University of Sydney, Australia. He researches both national and international educational reforms, (mostly# in Higher Education), and has extensive experience, including in the Asia-Pacific region. His more than 100 publications include numerous works on practical policy issues within Australia, East and the SE Asia, and elsewhere. With an M.A., and Ph. D. from the University of London, Professor Welch has lectured widely in the USA, UK, Japan, Korea, France, China, Taiwan and Germany, and is the author and/or editor of eight books. His work has been translated into eight European and Asian languages, and his project experience has led to consultancies to governments in Australia, Japan, Korea, Europe and the USA, and for international organisations. He currently heads an international research project titled 'The Chinese Knowledge Diaspora', is a Fulbright New Century Scholar for 2007-8 on the theme "Access and Equity in Higher Education", and has been Visiting Fellow at the Carnegie Foundation (CFAT), the University of Georgia, the University of London, the Institute National de Recherche Pedagogie, the Centre for International Higher Education, Waseda University, the Research Institute for Higher Education, and the Humboldt Universität zu Berlin.

SUGIMURA, Miki

Miki Sugimura is Associate Professor in Comparative and International Education, .Department of Education, Faculty of Human Sciences, Sophia University. She obtained her PhD in Education, University of Tokyo. She became Associate Professor in Sophia University since Sep.2002 after experiencing Political Attaché of Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MOFA), Research Fellow of National Institute for Educational `Policy Research in Japan (NIER), and Research Fellow of Center for the Study of International Cooperation in Education, Hiroshima University (CICE). Her main publications include Educational policy and the minority in Malaysia: Chinese schools under the policy of national integration (University of Tokyo Press, 2000), Higher Education Strategies of Asian Countries in the International Education Market, (Final Report of International Research with Grant-in-Aid of MEXT, 2006, Joint Work), Japanese International Cooperation in Higher Education of Malaysia (JBIC Institute, Discussion Paper No.10, 2006, Joint Work with Man YAMADA and Kazuo KURODA), "Significance of Transnational Program as International Cooperation in Higher Education: Creation of International Exchange Network through International Student Program", Bulletin of Education, Sophia University , Vo.41, 2007, pp.67-82 and "International Students Mobility and Creation of East Asian Community" in NISHIKAWA, Jun and Kenichiro HIRANO eds., International Mobility and Social Change (Designing an East Asian Community No.3) , Iwanami, 2006, pp.179-202.

YAVAPRABHAS, Supachai

Professor Supachai Yavaprabhas is the Director of Southeast Asian Ministers of Education Organization Regional Institute for Higher Education and Development (SEAMEO RIHED) and professor, Department of Public Administration, Faculty of Political Science, Chulalongkorn University. He has a PhD in Public Administration and Public Affairs, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, U.S.A. He became the Director at SEAMEO RIHED in 2005 after serving as Executive Director, ASEAN University Network (AUN), Executive Director, Chula Unisearch, Chulalongkorn University, Deputy Secretary-General, King Prajadhipok's Institute, Vice President (International Affairs); Chulalongkorn University, and so on.

RATANANUKUL, Piniti

Dr. Piniti Ratananukul is Associate Professor, Department of Chemistry, Srinakharinwirot University, Bangkok, Thailand. He obtained his PhD in Organic Chemistry, The National University of Ireland, University College Cork. He has been appointed as Executive Director, ASEAN University Network since January 2005 after serving as Vice President for administrative affairs and international relations in 2 public universities in Thailand, Silpakorn University and Srinakharinwirot University for more than 10 years. He has been serving as a university staff for more than 28 years and has involved in a number of projects in relation with human resources development for Thailand and ASEAN countries. He is now leading an organization in bringing together the ASEAN countries' individual efforts in promoting people-to-people exchanges under an academic framework. The organization is seen as an important mechanism to bring together students and faculty in various collaborative activities so as to assist in creating a deeper understanding and awareness of the dynamic region that comprises the ten countries of Southeast Asia.

SANUSI, Zainal Abidin

Zainal Abidin Sanusi is a faculty member at Department of Political Science, School of Social Sciences, Universiti Sains Malaysia. He is also a visiting researcher at World Trade Organization (WTO) Research Centre, Aoyama Gakuin University, Japan. Apart from responsibility as a faculty member, he also actively involves in the Regional Centre of Expertise on Education for Sustainable Development, Penang, as the Coordinator. One of the main activities of the Centre is collaborative efforts among higher education institution in various issues of sustainable development. He has a Ph.D. in International Studies from Waseda University and a M.A. in International Relations from International University, Japan. He has also spent one year postdoctoral study at UN University Institute of Advanced Studies doing research on the multilateral environmental agreement. His area of specialization is international political economy and has a very strong interest in various issues of sustainable development. He has participated in several international workshop and conferences on the subject both as invited participant and speaker. He received several international research grants from international agencies such as Japan Foundation, Sumitomo Foundation and UNESCO.

SONODA, Shigeto

Professor, Graduate School of Asia-Pacific Studies, Waseda University. MA in sociology at University of Tokyo. His specialties are Comparative Sociology, Social Change and Cultural Transformation in Asian Societies. After serving as a research associate at University of Tokyo and as a lecturer, an associate professor and professor at Chuo University, he took current job in April, 2005. Major publications include Japan in the Eyes of Asians, University of Tokyo Press, 1955; A Quarter-century History of Japan-China Relations, Toyo-keizai, 1998; Testimony to Sino-Japan Joint Ventures, Taishukan Shoten Publishers, 1998; Psychology and Behavior of Chinese People, NHK Books, 2001; Asiabound of Japanese Company: Adventures of International Sociology, Yuhikaku, 2001; Social Stratification and Social Change in Contemporary China, Chuo University Press, 2001; Globalization and East Asia, Chuo University Press, 2004 and others.

MA, Wan-hua

Dr. Wanhua Ma is a Professor at the Graduate School of Education, Peking University. She received both of her master and Ph.D. degree at Cornell University, U.S. She came to work at Peking University in 1997, specializing in educational psychology and higher education administration. Since then she has carried out many research projects funded by UNDP, UNESCO, Fulbright commission, the Ford Foundation and the National Science Foundation in China, concerning the issues of higher education reform, girls education, research university development and building, internationalization and globalization of higher education. In conjunction with her research, she was invited to visit, to teach and to conduct joint research projects with different universities in the United States, Japan, New Zealand, Australia, Canada, and other countries. In 2005/06, she was selected as Fulbright New Century Scholar, concentrating on the research of emerging global research universities and now she is an Erasmus Mundus Scholar, focusing her research on European higher Education integration.

KIM, Ki-Seok

Professor Ki-Seok Kim is Co-Founder & Chief Field Officer of Educators without Borders (EWB), Fullbright New Century Scholar 2007-8 & Education Professor and Director of Archives, Seoul National University (SNU). He has a PhD in Educational Policy Studies, University of Wisconsin-Madison. He began his career in 1985 as a sociologist of education at Seoul National University, after studying in the Department of Educational Policy Studies at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He has since been working as professor of education, College of Education, Seoul National University. He has created the Korean Education Archives in 1993 and, 5 years later, founded University Archives which was the first in its kind in public universities of Korea. From a number of study visits to international organizations such as the World Bank, OECD, and UNESCO, Prof. Kim has assembled a network of international educators for what he has termed "Quality Education for All: QEFA." By joining into the NCS program, he hopes to extend the network's reach to encompass a much larger range of international collaborations. He has been appointed as Executive Board Member (Alternate) of UNESCO Institute of Lifelong Learning (or UILL in short) in Hamburg last year and also appointed as Vice-Chair of Education Committee and Executive Board Member of The Korean Commission for UNESCO from 2005. Within our school, Dr. Kim has worked as Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs in 1999-2000 and did so as Director-General, Institute of Asia-Pacific Education Development (iAPED). Major publications include "Emperor Gwangmu's Diplomatic Struggles to Protect His Sovereignty before and after 1905,” Korea Journal, (Summer, 2006), The Birth of Identical Twins in 1946: The Makings of Seoul National University and Kim Il-Sung University, Seoul: Educational Science Publishing Co., 2001, “Japanese Colonial Education as a Contested Terrain,” Asia Pacific Education Review, Vol. 1, No. 1, pp. 75-90, The Institute of Asia Pacific Education Development, Seoul National University, 2000, and “The Rapid Expansion of Secondary Education,” The Current Status of Education, S. I. Kim et al (eds.), Seoul: Educational Science Publishing Co., 1989.

NGUYEN, Thuy Anh

Lecturer, College of Economics, Vietnam National University, Hanoi, where she earned her Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts in Economics in 2003 and 2006, respectively. She is now a PhD Candidate at Graduate School of Asia-Pacific Studies, Waseda University. She became Lecturer at College of Economics, Vietnam National University, Hanoi in 2005, after serving as Assistant Lecturer at the same institution from 2003. Her research fields are Globalization, Economic Integration and Internationalization of Higher Education in Developing Countries. Her major research includes The Economic Role of Government in the Process of Globalization and Economic Integration of Vietnam; The Economic Role of the Vietnamese Government in the Integration Process into the World Trade Organization of Vietnam and others.

CHENG, Kai-Ming

Professor Kai-ming CHENG is the Senior Advisor to the Vice-Chancellor and Chair Professor of Education at the University of Hong Kong. He was also Dean of Education and Pro-Vice-Chancellor of University of Hong Kong. Visiting Professor at the Harvard Graduate School of Education since 1996-2006. Trained as a mathematician at the HKU, he was a school teacher and a school principal. He obtained his PhD from the University of London, Institute of Education. Over the years, he has undertaken research and consultancies commissioned by the World Bank, the Asian Development Bank, UNESCO, UNICEF, UNDP and other international organisations, working mainly on education in rural China. Recently, he has extended his research interest to India and other Asian countries, and has extended to higher education reforms, IT development in education, qualitative research methodology, and cultural dimensions of education. He has been invited to deliver keynote papers pertaining to the impact of knowledge society on education. He has been invited to provide consultancy for the governments of the UK, Japan, India, Singapore, Lesotho and Saudi Arabia. He is also Visiting Professor in various Chinese universities including Peking University and the National Academy of Education Administration. He publishes widely and serves on various editorial and advisory boards worldwide. He was awarded Fellowship by several academic institutions, including the London Institute of Education, the Commonwealth Council for Educational Administration, Hong Kong Educational Research Association and the Hong Kong Educational Research Association. Locally, he serves on the Education Commission and Chairs the Advisory Committee on Teacher Education and Qualification. He writes a weekly column in Hong Kong Economic Journal Daily.

List of Editorial Members

■ Editor

Kazuo KURODA, PhD

Professor, Graduate School of Asian Pacific Studies,
Waseda University

Masato KAMIKUBO, PhD

Research Fellow, Waseda University Global-COE
Program: Global Institute for Asian Regional Integration (GIARI)

David PASSARELLI

Research Assistant, Waseda University Global-COE
Program: Global Institute for Asian Regional Integration (GIARI)

■ Design

Shoko MIYANO

Waseda University Global COE Program GIARI
Office

■ Transcript

Kyoko MORIYA

Masami KIMURA

Formulating an International Higher Education Framework for Regional Cooperation and Integration in Asia

January 8 2009

Edited by Kazuo KURODA, Masato KAMIKUBO, David PASARELLI
Published by Waseda University Global COE Program
Global Institute for Asian Regional Integration (GIARI)
Waseda University Nishiwaseda Bldg. 5F#507 1-21-1
Nishiwaseda, Shinjuku-ku, Tokyo 169-0051 Japan
E-mail: affairs@waseda-giari.jp
Webpage: <http://www.waseda-giari.jp>
Printed by Waseda University International Corporation
Waseda University No. 14 Bldg, 1-6-1
Nishi-waseda, Shinjuku-ku, Tokyo 169-8050 Japan

ISBN 978-4-904618-00-4
